“AS ONE WHO WAS THERE AT CREATION, I CAN AUTHORITATIVELY STATE THAT THE MATURE HERITAGE AREAS PROGRAM HAS EXCEEDED EXPECTATIONS”

- J. RODNEY LITTLE,
FORMER DIRECTOR AND STATE HISTORIC PRESERVATION OFFICER, MARYLAND HISTORICAL TRUST

Maryland's history, culture and landscapes are assets unique to the state, drawing heritage visitors year after year. Each of Maryland's 13 certified Heritage Areas are defined by the preservation of irreplicable sites and the amplification of the voices capturing the stories and spirit of the past. Across Maryland, these distinctive areas help establish the identity of a place or region, creating a unique destination different from all other areas. Heritage Areas are locally operated entities that foster public-private partnership to preserve historic sites and buildings, natural environments, cultural traditions and uniquely Maryland experiences. In June 2019, Maryland Heritage Areas Authority (MHAA) engaged Parker Philips, Inc. to measure the economic and societal contribution of Maryland's 13 Heritage Areas, and their visitors, across the state. Each individual Heritage Area represents a facet of Maryland's one-of-a-kind story.

ABOUT MHAA

The Maryland Heritage Areas Authority (MHAA) is an independent unit within the Executive branch of state government and is administered by the Maryland Historical Trust, an agency of the Maryland Department of Planning. Funding which is currently $6 million annually comes out of Program Open Space funds. In 2019, approximately $5.1 million was allocated in grants.
